About Jeremiah

Jeremiah Ssekabira is a lawyer, governance strategist and thought leader operating at the intersection of artificial intelligence, corporate governance and public policy.

He advises boards, C-suites, regulators and institutions on how to oversee, regulate and responsibly adopt AI — combining legal rigour with deep operational and boardroom experience across Africa and globally.

He is the author of the forthcoming book AI Governance in the Boardroom: A Director's Playbook for the African Century, and the lead faculty of the AI Governance in the Boardroom™ executive masterclass.
